

Meet Sallye Werner!

When I retired from teaching in 1998, becoming a CASA volunteer seemed like a natural step - for all those students I had and thought "if only someone would do this for them," I now could be that someone.

I became a volunteer in Spring, 1999, and with a couple of short breaks, was active until 2018. I came on the Friends of Alaska's Children in Care (FACC) Board very shortly, and, again with a couple of short breaks, have served as Vice President, Treasurer, and President over the years. I get such satisfaction from seeing how we have grown through the years to serve more children in more ways, and to expand the support for CASA volunteers.

When not working on FACC activities, I enjoy spending time with my grandchildren, friends, and my two geriatric cats. I love touring Alaska and traveling around the world - have been on all continents, including Antarctica - so am missing those options while I hunker down this spring and summer of 2020. Am also missing my favorite pastime, baseball and the Detroit Tigers.
