

Meet Serena Nesteby!

Originally from Barrow, Alaska, Serena is committed to serving and advocating for children and youth – especially those who are at a greater risk of experiencing trauma or homelessness.

Serena earned her Bachelors of Social Work from the University of Alaska Anchorage and her Masters of Social Work from Western New Mexico University. She is the Fund Development and Marketing Manager at Big Brothers Big Sisters of Alaska.

Serena has dedicated her career to our most vulnerable children and youth, engaging with Denali Family Services, YWCA Alaska, and Alaska Youth Advocates. She joined the Friends of Alaska's Children in Care board in 2017.

Mother, wife, and auntie are some of Serena's favorite roles. Her values of resilience, equality, humor, and kindness, strengthen her team and the mission wherever she goes. She loves Harry Potter, superheroes, fishing, and hot chocolate with whipped cream and sprinkles.
